ABSTRACT

In line with improved and more comprehensive data collection and processing methods, this edition of School Profiles incorporates a number of improvements in data quality over earlier versions. In addition, this report includes data on the New York City Public High Schools. This publication presents a statistical overview of each of the elementary, intermediate, junior high, academic, and vocational high schools in the New York City Public School System. It contains a wide variety of 1974-1975 school year data describing the individual school plant, pupil characteristics and achievement levels, and staff positions and costs. In addition to presenting data on individual schools, school level and geographic summaries are also provided. The complete School Profiles data file is also available on magnetic tape for computer processing and analysis. (Author/MLF)

Documents acquired by ERIC include many informal unpublished materials not available from other sources. ERIC makes every effort to obtain the best copy available. Nevertheless, items of marginal reproducibility are often encountered and this affects the quality of the microfiche and hardcopy reproductions ERIC makes available via the ERIC Document Reproduction Service (EDRS). FOREWORD

Anyone who has been involved in a study yielding disappointingly low relationships between school-system characteristics and pupil achievements or attitudes or outlook on life should seriously entertain the explanatory hypothesis that the measures used to describe the schools and their functioning are simply too crude to yield any useful amount of meaningful variance.

Henry S. Dyer: On Equality of Educational Opportunity

This is the third edition of School Profiles; previous editions were issued for the 1972-1973 and 1973-1974 school years. In line with improved and more comprehensive data collection and processing methods, this edition of School Profiles incorporates a number of improvements in data quality over earlier versions. In addition, the 1974-1975 School Profiles includes data on the New York City public high schools.

The purpose of School Profiles is to provide detailed information on pupil characteristics, staffing patterns, microresource allocations, and educational achievement to the professional staff and the Public—parents, organizations, and interested citizens. This information should prove quite useful as members of the educational community grope with the problems of establishing and achieving educational excellence in a period of economic scarcity and decline in the state of affairs of municipal government in New York City.

A school is a complex organization and efforts to characterize schools by the use of quantitative data are never complete. Educational data can suffer from many deficiencies: inadequate definition of the fundamental variables, inconsistencies in data supplied by different persons within the school system, confused record-keeping, a tendency to fill up the informational gaps with impressionistic data, and an unwillingness to supply facts, either because they are hard to obtain or because they may reflect unfavorably on the schools or on the respondents. The factors selected for inclusion in School Profiles are thought to be the most reliable and consistent, as well as the most indicative of the total school environment and of greatest concern to the educational community. While the data are for the 1974-1975 school year, these factors are not static. Some factors, such as average daily register and pupil attendance data, are based on a year's experience. Other variables, such as pupil ethnic composition and pupil/teacher ratio, describe the school at a point in time.

Education is currently without systematic information on the factors and processes associated with educational effectiveness. An analysis of the citywide reading achievement test scores reveals large differences in levels of academic performance for the New York City public schools. But while test results can indicate a school's level of pupil achievement, they cannot explain or improve the degree of performance. The publication of test scores generates several questions. How much of the achievement range can be attributed to variances in pupil and community background, or to other factors, particularly the educational programs in individual schools? What are the possible consequences of alternative resource allocations for pupil achievement?

Participation in the development of educational policy requires analyses beyond descriptive displays of data averages and frequency distributions. In addition to this publication, the complete School Profiles data file is available on magnetic tape for computer processing and analysis. Computerization will enable the educational analyst to develop multivariate statistical models of the educational process and to identify those school factors associated with educational achievement.

The Schools Profiles and its data file can support effective program planning and management. Used judiciously, it is a basis for analyzing what our schools are doing, for identifying successful programs and for improving others. Finally, it can contribute to the communication that must exist between each school and its community.

DATA DEFINITIONS

This publication presents a statistical overview of each of the elementary, intermediate, junior high, academic, and vocational high schools in the New York City Public School System. It contains a wide variety of 1974-1975 school year data describing the individual school plant, pupil characteristics and achievement levels, and staff positions and costs. In addition to presenting data on individual schools, the School Profiles also provides data for the following school level and geographic summaries:

Summary by Title I Status within Level within District
Summary by Level within District
Summary by Title I Status within District
Summary by District
Summary by Title I Status within Borough
Summary by Level within Borough
Summary by Title I Status within Level within City

Summary by Title I Status within City
Summary of all Schools within City

This publication was developed and prepared by the Office of Educational Statistics. The data on physical facilities were obtained from the Office of Educational Facilities Planning. Data on pupil enrollment, ethnic composition, attendance, promotions, free lunch eligibility, admissions and departures, and teacher absence were obtained from the Office of Educational Statistics. Standardized achievement test scores in reading and mathematics were supplied by the Office of Educational Evaluation. Data relating to high school graduates and average class size were provided by the Division of High Schools. School staff position and cost data were generated by computer systems developed by the Office of Educational Statistics. Electronic data processing services used in the production of the School Profiles were provided by the Bureau of Management Information and Data Processing.

The School Profiles project grew out of research on identifying unusually effective schools begun by Bernard R. Gifford, Deputy Chancellor, while at the New York City Rand Institute. The School Profiles computer system and data report formats were developed jointly by Bernard R. Gifford, and Richard Vigilante, Leon Brazel, Soren Smith and Jeffry Lee of the School Profiles Project Team.

Cover design and photographs were produced by James Greller and Sarita Tomchinsky of the Office of Educational Statistics.

PHYSICAL FACILITY DATA

The following physical facility data are included for each individual school organization:

LEVEL

Level defines a category of schools having similar grades or types of pupils. For the School Profiles the following levels have been used:

Community School Districts 1 through 32
- Elementary Schools
- Junior High/Intermediate Schools

High Schools District 78
- Academic-Comprehensive High Schools
- Vocational-Technical High Schools
- Independent Alternative High Schools

TITLE I STATUS

A school is eligible to receive additional educational services under Title I of the Federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA) if its percentage of low-income pupils is equal to or greater than the citywide percentage of low-income pupils. The percentage of low-income pupils is determined by dividing the school's October 31, 1974 register into the weighted sum of free lunch eligible pupils enrolled in the school and children aged 5 to 17 receiving Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) payments.

For the 1974-1975 school year, the following formulae were used to determine the city-wide low income cutoff percentage and the low income percentage for each New York City public school:

1. City-wide Cutoff (C.W.C.)

$$\text{C.W.C.} = \frac{\text{The number of Children Ages 5-17 on AFDC Welfare Rolls (weighted 60\%) plus the number of Public School Pupils receiving Free Lunch (weighted 40\%)}}{\text{Total number of Children on Public and Nonpublic School Registers as of October 31, 1974}} \times 100$$

2. Eligibility of a New York City Public School (P.S.E.)

$$\text{P.S.E.} = \frac{\text{The number of Children in Age Span Appropriate to the School's Attendance Area on AFDC Welfare Rolls (weighted 60\%) plus the number of Pupils in the School receiving Free Lunch (weighted 40\%)}}{\text{Total Number of Public School Children registered in the Schools as of October 31, 1974}} \times 100$$

A public school is eligible for ESEA Title I services for 1974-1975 if its low-income percentage (P.S.E.) is equal to or greater than the citywide low-income cutoff percentage (C.W.C.) of 31.4%.

ADDRESS

TELEPHONE [illegible]

NO. OF ANNEXE[illegible]

An annex is any educational space assigned to a school organization but not housed in the main school building. For the School Profiles, only annexes housed in regular school buildings are counted. Annexes housed in portable classrooms, mini-schools or any leased space are not included in the annex data.

YEARS OF CONSTRUCTION, ADDITION AND MODERNIZATION

Dates apply to main building only.

Main building year of construction dates for the various level and district summaries are presented by the number of schools in the summary having construction dates within each of the following intervals:

Before 1900
Between 1900 and 1929
Between 1930 and 1959
1960 and later

TYPE OF CONSTRUCTION

There are four categories of construction for N.Y.C. public school buildings:

Fireproof Throughout
Structurally Fireproof
Interior Framing not Fireproof
Mixed (any combination of the above categories)

Main building type of construction data for the various level and district summaries are presented by the number of schools in the summary having construction types within each of the four above categories.

CAPACITY

Capacity is the ideal number of pupils that can be physically accommodated in a school given its educational program. School capacity is computed annually in October based on a survey of the number of instructional rooms and the use made of these rooms. Factors considered in the computation of a school's capacity include the number and type of classes organized, class size requirements for the pupil populations, and special programs and activities. For the School Profiles, the capacity of temporary buildings such as portable classrooms, mini-schools and leased space has not been included with that of the main building and other school building annexes. Capacity is not computed for Special (District 75) Schools.

PERCENT UTILIZATION

Percent Utilization is a measure of the usage of a school building in relation to its rated capacity. Utilization is computed by dividing the October 31, 1974 register into the school capacity as determined by the October 1974 survey. The capacity figure used in the School Profiles excludes the capacity of all temporary buildings in displaying capacity for the school organization. Pupil registers for individual school organizations include all buildings, however.

Therefore, for those schools where the register and capacity data do not involve the same structures, the percent utilization has not been calculated. Reference should be made to the following Board of Education publication for a more detailed discussion of school capacity data:

Utilization of School Buildings
1974-1975 School Year
Office of Educational Facilities Planning

School Utilization data for the various level and district summaries are presented by the number of schools in the summary having utilization rates within each of the following intervals:

Less than 80 percent
Between 80 and 99 percent
Between 100 and 119 percent
120 percent and over

PUPIL DATA

REGISTER (10/31/74)

Register is the number of pupils enrolled in school on the last school day in October. Register includes all pupils (pre-kindergarten, kindergarten, regular and special education classes) counted on the individual school organization's rollbook in all facilities (main building, annexes, portable classrooms, leased space and other auxiliary structures). For many schools, the October 31 register will represent the largest number of pupils within the school at any given point in time during the school year.

AVERAGE DAILY REGISTER FOR SCHOOL YEAR 1974-1975

Average Daily Register is the sum of the daily registers during the school year divided by the number of days in the school year. For 1974-1975, there were 182 school days in Manhattan, Bronx and Richmond, and 181 school days in Brooklyn and Queens. Since the enrollment at a school will vary continuously with the admissions and departures of pupils during the year, the average daily register may be more indicative of a school's pupil population than is the October 31 register.

ETHNIC COMPOSITION (BY TYPE OF CLASS)

Ethnic Composition is the racial or ancestral composition of the pupil population registered at a school as of October 31, 1974. The pupil ethnic data are collected for each classroom by teacher observation only. Teachers are instructed not to ask any pupil his or her race or ancestry. Where the race or ancestry of some pupils is not clear, the teacher is to choose the classification that, in the teacher's judgment, best fits the individual based on current social definitions. The criterion is this: "Does the school or community consider this pupil to be Black, Puerto Rican, American Indian, Spanish Surnamed American, Oriental or from some other ethnic group?" The definitions given below are those used by both New York City and New York State:

Black — Pupils considered to be of African or Afro-American origin.

American Indian — Pupils considered to be of American Indian origin.

Oriental — Pupils considered to be of Chinese, Japanese, or other Oriental origin.

Puerto Rican — Pupils considered to be of Puerto Rican origin.

Other Spanish — Pupils considered to be of Mexican, Central American, or other Spanish speaking origin.

Other — Pupils not classifiable in any of the above categories.

The pupil ethnic data are displayed by number and percent of pupils across rows for pre-kindergarten, kindergarten, regular grades, special education classes, and total of all grades and classes.

ATTENDANCE (PERCENT OF AVERAGE DAILY REGISTER)

Percent Attendance is the mean pupil attendance rate for the 1974-1975 school year. Percent Attendance is calculated by dividing the average daily register into the average daily attendance. Pupil attendance data are collected monthly for each of ten attendance periods in the school year. Each month's aggregate register and aggregate attendance are totaled over the ten periods and divided by the number of school days in the year to yield average daily registers and attendance.

Pupil Attendance data for the various level and district summaries are presented by the number of schools in the summary having attendance rates within each of the following intervals:

Less than 60 percent
Between 60 and 69 percent
Between 70 and 79 percent
Between 80 and 89 percent
90 percent and over

PROMOTIONS (PERCENT OF JUNE 1975 REGISTER)

Promotion rates are provided for elementary, intermediate and junior high schools only. Percent Promotions are calculated by dividing the June 26, 1975 register into the number of pupils promoted in June into a higher grade. Mentally handicapped pupils are not graded and do not "advance" by grade level. Such pupils are therefore excluded when calculating promotion rates.

$$\text{Percent Promotions} = \frac{\text{Number of Promotions}}{\text{June 26, 1975 Register}} \times 100$$

Pupil Promotion data for the various level and district summaries are presented by the number of schools in the summary having promotion rates within each of the following intervals:

Less than 80 percent
Between 80 and 84 percent
Between 85 and 90 percent
Between 90 and 94 percent
95 percent and over

FREE LUNCH ELIGIBLES (PERCENT OF 10/31/74 REGISTER)

Percent Free Lunch Eligible Pupils is the number of pupils eligible to receive free lunch as of October 31, 1974 divided by the October 31, 1974 register. Under U.S. Department of Agriculture regulations, pupils are eligible for free school lunches due to low family income ($108.46 gross weekly for a family of four) or due to special hardship costs (such as excessive medical expenses) where the family income exceeds the U.S.D.A. income scale.

$$\text{Percent Free Lunch Eligibles} = \frac{\text{Free Lunch Eligible Pupils as of 10/31/74}}{\text{October 31, 1974 Register}} \times 100$$

Free lunch eligibility data for the various level and district summaries are presented by the number of schools in the summary having free lunch eligibility rates within each of the following intervals:

Less than 20 percent
Between 20 and 39 percent
Between 40 and 59 percent
Between 60 and 79 percent
80 percent and over

ADMISSIONS

Percent Admissions is the number of pupils admitted into a school during the 1974-1975 school year divided by the average daily register for that year. Admissions include both pupils transferring in from another New York City public school and pupils being admitted from all other schools.

$$\text{Percent Admissions} = \frac{\text{Number of Pupils Admitted during 1974-1975}}{\text{Average Daily Register}} \times 100$$

Pupil admissions data for the various level and district summaries are presented by the number of schools in the summary having admission rates within each of the following intervals:

Less than 20 percent
Between 20 and 39 percent
Between 40 and 59 percent
Between 60 and 79 percent
80 percent and over

DEPARTURES

Percent Departures is the number of pupils leaving a school during the 1974-1975 school year divided by the average daily register for that year. Departures include pupils transferring out to another New York City public school, as well as pupils transferring to any other school or leaving school entirely.

$$\text{Percent Departures} = \frac{\text{Number of Pupils Discharged during 1974-1975}}{\text{Average Daily Register}} \times 100$$

Pupil departures data for the various level and district summaries are presented by the number of schools in the summary having departure rates within each of the following intervals:

Less than 20 percent
Between 20 and 39 percent
Between 40 and 59 percent
Between 60 and 79 percent
80 percent and over

READING SCORES

Reading scores are shown for the elementary, intermediate and junior high schools only. The New York City Reading Test, also known as the Stanford Achievement Test in Reading, was held in April 1975 for the second through the ninth grades. This standardized examination, entirely new, makes possible a comparison of the reading ability of New York City public school pupils with the ability of students throughout the United States.

Pupil reading scores are given in grade equivalent units. For each pupil, the number of correct answers is converted to a grade equivalent score on the basis of tables developed when the test was standardized on a national sample of students. The ten months of the school year represent tenths of a grade equivalent score. For example, for a third grade test held in the beginning of April, the norm grade equivalent score is 3.7 because early April is the 7th complete month of one year's reading instruction. A third grade pupil who attains a grade equivalent score of 3.7 has equalled the performance, in terms of the number of correct answers, of the average child in the national sample of children on whom the test was standardized. For any large group of pupils tested, there will result a relatively wide range of grade equivalent scores above and below the norm. In the national sample, half of the pupils in a grade fall below the norm and half above the norm. Statistically, an "average" school should have 50% of its children scoring above grade level and 50% below.

The New York City Reading Tests consist of either two or three parts, depending on the grade. For grades two through seven, there are three parts. Part 1 is Listening Vocabulary, dictated words of which half are words children encounter in social studies, science and mathematics, and the other half are general words frequently found in language arts. Part 2, Reading Comprehension, is intended as a measure of comprehension of connected discourse in print during which pupils read paragraphs and answer questions on their content. The material is designed to appeal to pupils of diverse backgrounds. At the lower grades, the paragraphs are composed mainly of simple sentences and elementary vocabulary. Gradually, the paragraphs increase in length, sentence structure becomes more complex, and the vocabulary load is increased. Part 3 is Word Study Skills. In grades 2-4, this consists of dictated items measuring ability to discriminate letter sounds and/or written items measuring knowledge of variant spellings of sounds. In grades 5-7, Part 3 measures knowledge and blending of word parts and ability to spell sounds. Grades 8 and 9 use only two parts: Reading Vocabulary and Reading Comprehension.

In deriving the Mean Grade Equivalent for the Total Test, the Listening Vocabulary score is not included.

For each grade tested in a school, the following pupil reading data are provided:

- Number of pupils taking the test. This number is generally lower than the pupil register as a certain number of pupils are either absent on test day or are excluded from the test due to English speaking difficulty.
- Mean grade equivalent score for Part 1 — Vocabulary. Calculated by dividing the sum of the individual pupil mean grade equivalent scores by the number of pupils tested.
- Mean grade equivalent score for Part 2 — Reading Comprehension.
- Mean grade equivalent score for Part 3 — Word Study Skills.
- Mean grade equivalent score for total Reading Test.
- Percent of pupils tested scoring at or above the norm grade equivalent.
- Percent of pupils tested scoring one year or more below norm grade equivalent.
- Percent of pupils tested scoring two years or more below norm grade equivalent. (Not applicable for second grade pupils.)

MATH SCORES

Mathematics scores are shown for elementary, intermediate and junior high schools. The New York City Mathematics Test, also known as the Stanford Achievement Test in Mathematics, was held in April 1975 for the fifth, sixth and eighth grades. This standardized test, entirely new, makes possible a comparison of the math ability of this City's public school pupils with the ability of students throughout the nation. As with the reading scores, the pupil math scores are given in grade equivalent units.

The New York City Mathematics Tests consist of three parts. Part 1, Concepts, for the fifth grade measures pupils' knowledge of number properties and operations with some items on measurement, geometry, sets and averages. The sixth grade puts increased emphasis on geometry and includes items on fractions and logical thinking. The eighth grade encompasses simple probability.

Part 2, Computation, for the fifth grade measures addition to four digits, subtraction, multiplication and division. The sixth grade includes common fractions. The eighth grade tests percent, average, exponents and simplification of sentence integers.

Part 3, Applications, is designed to use pupils' knowledge of concepts and computational ability to solve problems that occur in life situations. Among the topics in the fifth grade are graphs, rate problems, measurement, buying and selling. The sixth grade has a wide range of problems including fractions. The eighth grade covers English and metric measures, map scales, averages and probability.

For each grade tested in a school, the following pupil math data are provided:

- Number of pupils taking test.
- Mean grade equivalent score for Part 1 — Concepts.
- Mean grade equivalent score for Part 2 — Computation.
- Mean grade equivalent score for Part 3 — Applications.
- Mean grade equivalent score for total Mathematics test, Parts 1, 2 and 3.
- Percent of pupils tested scoring at or above the norm grade equivalent.
- Percent of pupils tested scoring one year or more below norm grade equivalent.
- Percent of pupils tested scoring two years or more below norm grade equivalent.

ESTIMATED PERCENT OF STUDENTS READING 2 YEARS BELOW GRADE LEVEL

The estimated percent of students reading 2 years or more below norm grade level is provided for high schools only. This figure is a projection based on the ninth grade MAT reading scores in each high school and in the ninth grades of the appropriate feeder junior high schools. The projection is made by the Division of High Schools to provide a more complete picture of reading levels in high schools than would the use of ninth grade high school scores alone. Most New York City public high schools have both ninth and tenth grade entering classes with intermediate schools (grades 5-8 or 6-8) feeding into the former and junior high schools (grades 7-9) feeding into the latter. High school ninth grades are generally smaller and less representative of the school population than are grades ten through twelve.

STUDENTS IN GRADUATING CLASS

The number of students in the graduating class as of October 31, 1974. Provided for high schools only.

GRANTED DIPLOMAS / CERTIFICATES

The number of students awarded diplomas or graduation certificates, and the percentage this number is of the number of students in the graduating class. Provided for high schools only.

PERCENT OF GRADUATES APPLYING TO HIGHER EDUCATION

The percent of the students awarded diplomas or graduation certificates applying to the type of higher educational institution — four-year college, community college, or other institution — of their first choice. These data only represent applications to, and not acceptance by, the higher education institutions. Provided for high schools only.

AVERAGE INSTRUCTIONAL PERIODS

The average number of subject periods taken each day by each pupil every day including required Music and Health Education courses. Provided for high schools only.

STAFF DATA

POSITION TITLES

Annual pedagogic positions by title assigned to each school as reported on the pedagogic payroll. Included are all regular, regular substitute, and full time per diem substitute personnel. Excluded from the positions are all personnel on sabbatical, terminal, maternity and all other paid and non-paid leaves of absence.

The positions displayed for all schools other than high schools are:

- Principal
- Assistant Principal (Administration)
- Teacher
- Guidance Counselor
- School Secretary
- Other Professional (including Library Assistant, Laboratory Specialist, and Laboratory Technician)

For high schools, there may be three additional position types: Assistant Principal (Supervision), Machinist Helper, and Assistant Stockman.

Position and salary data are provided for each title by tax levy (City) and reimbursable (State and Federal) funding, and total of both funding sources. Average annual salaries are calculated by dividing the total number of positions for each title into the respective total annual salary dollars. All salary information represent totals extracted from the computer payroll files for the school year 1974-1975.

Pupil/Staff Ratio is calculated for each title by dividing the total number of annual positions for the title into the average daily register. Staff Cost per Pupil is calculated for each title by dividing the average daily register into the total annual salary dollars for each title.

All cost data in the School Profiles are for salaries only. Fringe benefit costs, such as City expenditures for health and welfare, social security and pension plans, are not included but are estimated to approximate 36% of pedagogic salaries.

Payroll data do not always provide a true picture of the number of positions serving in a school. Some personnel charged to one school's payroll may actually be assigned to another school or to a district office. Payroll data also do not reflect the assignment status of some acting supervisors. A school in which an assistant principal is serving as an acting principal may be shown as having no principal. Most acting supervisors, however, are paid out of their assignment position payroll line and their status will be shown correctly in the School Profiles.

HOURLY TITLES

Personnel paid on an hourly basis and assigned to schools as reported on the hourly employees payrolls. The hourly positions displayed for all schools are:

- Instructional Paraprofessional (including Teacher Aide, Educational Assistant, Educational Associate, and Auxiliary Trainer)
- Security Guard (including Student Service Officer)
- Other Hourly (including School Aide, School Lunch Helper, Parent Program Assistant, Family Worker, Family Assistant, and Family Associate)

Hours and salary (hourly rate) data are provided for each hourly title by tax levy (City) and reimbursable (State and Federal) funding, and total of both funding sources. Average hourly rates are calculated by dividing the total number of hours for each title into the respective total hourly dollars. All hourly staff and salary data are extracted from the computer hourly payroll files for the 1974-1975 school year.

Pupil/Staff Ratio is calculated for each hourly title by dividing the total number of hours for the title into the average daily register. Hourly title cost per pupil is computed by dividing the average daily register into the total hourly dollars for each title.

All hourly cost data provided in the School Profiles are for salaries only. Fringe benefits costs are not included.

STAFF COST PER PUPIL

The total annual pedagogic position and school hourly title salary dollars (excluding fringe benefits) divided by the average daily register.

Total school staff cost per pupil data for the various level and district summaries are presented by the number of schools in the summary having total per pupil staff costs within each of the following intervals:

Less than $700 per pupil
Between $700 and $999 per pupil
Between $1,000 and $1,299 per pupil
Between $1,300 and $1,599 per pupil
$1,600 per pupil and over

PUPIL / TEACHER RATIO

The Pupil/Teacher Ratio is the total number of teacher positions divided into the average daily register.

Pupil/Teacher Ratio data for the various level and district summaries are presented by the number of schools in the summary having pupil/teacher ratios within each of the following intervals:

$$\text{Teacher Absence Rate} = \frac{\text{Number of Days of Teacher Absences}}{\text{Total Number of Teacher-Days}} \times 100$$

Teacher absence rate data for the various level and district summaries are presented by the number of schools in the summary having teacher absence rates within each of the following intervals:

Schedule C-2 — Salary rates paid to teachers who have completed thirty semester hours of approved study beyond the baccalaureate degree, or who hold an approved master's degree issued by a recognized college or university. For the 1974-1975 school year, the C-2 salary schedule ranged from $10,200 to $17,150 in sixteen semi-annual steps.

Schedule C-6 — Salary rates paid to teachers who hold an approved doctorate issued by a recognized college or university, or who hold an approved master's degree and in addition have completed thirty semester hours of approved study beyond the baccalaureate degree, or who have completed sixty semester hours of approved study beyond the baccalaureate degree. For the 1974-1975 school year, the C-6 salary schedule ranged from $13,400 to $20,350 in sixteen semi-annual steps.

In the School Profiles, teachers appointed prior to July 1, 1947 and on the IIa salary schedule ($20,350 annual salary for the 1974-1975 school year) have been included with teachers on the C-6 salary schedule.

SOME NOTES ON STAFF AND COST DATA

All cost and staff information in the School Profiles are generated from the Board of Education's payroll tapes for the school year 1974-1975. Although extreme effort was made to insure that all the data in this publication is as perfect as possible, there may be inaccuracies in the staff and cost statistics. The analyst of School Profiles data should remember these points:

1. The data for the teachers and other professionals are the accumulation of the information on the twelve monthly pedagogic payroll tapes starting with September 1974 and ending with vacation pay on the July and August 1975 files.

   In deriving the number of each type of personnel at a school, the School Profiles computer system counted each full time employee being paid that month as 1.0, and then divided the sum by 12. Decimals of an annual position may result from the following situations:

   A. Especially at the beginning of a term, it frequently happens that teachers transferred to another school will continue to be shown on the payroll of their former school for one or more months. In such cases, for the months until the employee was properly listed on the payroll of the school at which he actually worked, his original school would be overcounted and his new school would be undercounted.

   B. During the fall term, a pedagogue may work and be paid at one school, and then in the spring term, be employed at and shown on the payroll of a different school. Both his July and August checks are issued to him at the second school. The computer system counts him as being at the first school 5/12 of the year (0.4 of an annual position), and at the second school 7/12 of the year (0.6 positions). His salary is divided in the same proportion in the School Profiles.

2. Instructional service money for the 1974-1975 school year was allocated by objective formulae to the thirty-two Community School Districts partly on the basis of pupil registers as of October 31, 1973. For some districts, the October 31, 1974 register may have exceeded the October 31, 1973 pupil census. This would have resulted in higher pupil/staff ratios and lower per pupil costs for schools in these districts at the start of the 1974-1975 school year. When October 31, 1974 registers became available, additional instructional funds were allocated to these districts for hiring more staff. But these additional allocations would only be reflected for part of the year in the School Profiles.

3. Pupil/teacher ratios are calculated by dividing the number of teachers into the average daily register. As described above, the teacher data are derived by aggregating the number on the monthly pedagogic payroll files and dividing by 12. As a measure of instructional service, the pupil/teacher ratio is sometimes confused with the average class size. Teacher workload factors result in differences between the two measures, however.

   The classroom teacher's workday is separated into teaching, preparation, and administrative periods. The number of teaching periods allowed varies by level and by Title I or Non-Title I status. When a teacher is taking a preparation or administrative period, another teacher must be assigned to cover the class. Teachers at the elementary level have 5 preparation periods per week in Title I schools and 2 preparation periods per week in Non-Title I schools. Teachers at the junior high/intermediate level have 8 preparation periods per week in Title I schools and 5 preparation periods per week in Non-Title I schools. The total number of teachers required per class is therefore equal to one regular teacher plus a portion of an additional preparation teacher.

The impact of this additional period coverage on pupil/teacher ratios is given below:

LEVEL	TITLE I STATUS	MAXIMUM CLASS SIZE	TEACHERS PER CLASS	MAXIMUM PUPIL/TEACHER RATIO
Elementary	Title I	32	1.20	26.67
Elementary	Non-Title I	32	1.07	29.87
Junior High	Title I	30	1.52	19.74
Junior High	Non-Title I	33	1.40	23.57

The variation in pupil/teacher ratios shown in the School Profiles is partly the result of additional preparation period coverage and should not be interpreted as resulting entirely from variations in the level of instructional service or class size.

4. Per pupil costs are calculated by dividing the average daily register into the staff annual salaries. The staff costs shown are most of, but not all, the personnel costs. As mentioned above, fringe benefits are not included. Also not included are such personnel costs as custodial salaries, salaries of annual civil service employees (e.g., school lunch managers and cooks) working in the schools, after hours activity costs, and overhead at Community School District offices and central headquarters. Expenditures for other than personal service (e.g., supplies, equipment, transportation) are not given.

5. The analyst interested in comparing costs last year (1973-1974) with this year (1974-1975) is cautioned on the following difference. For the 1973-1974 School Profiles, data from the November 1973 payroll period was multiplied by 12 to get a year's total. The month of November was selected for use in the School Profiles so that cost and staff data would correspond as closely in time as possible to the October 31, 1973 pupil data. For the 1974-1975 School Profiles, payrolls for the entire school year were aggregated, and the average daily register for the year was used rather than the October 31 census.
